

EBSCO eBooks Open Access Monograph Collection

Content: The database offers access to a growing collection of Open Access books - currently more than 2,500 titles. Due to the open license, the books can be freely downloaded without any technical limitations.

The collection has been prepared by experts from EBSCO in terms of suitability of particular items and their scientific value. It contains, among others, OA titles from respected scientific publishers (e.g. University of Michigan Press, Taylor & Francis, Temple University Press).

The offered database is a multidisciplinary product and is a response to the growing interest in publishing and using resources in Open Access. The database can be accessed and searched through a search engine on the EBSCOhost platform.
