1. INTRODUCTION	5
2. STATE OF THE STUDIES	10
3. ELEMENTS OF CONFIGURATION RECOGNITIONS – LANDSCAPE AND ARCHITECTURE	33
3.1. Visual space – a periphery of town planning and terrestrial structures	33
3.1.1. "Genius loci" and architecture	33
3.1.2. Boundlessness	36
3.1.3. Defined space	40
3.1.4. Conditions of observation	40
3.2. Peculiarity of immeasurable factors in local environments	43
3.2.1. Shores	45
3.2.2. Harbours	54
3.2.3. SEASIDE TOWNS	57
3.3. CONTEMPORARY SPACE DELIMITATIONS – CONTINUUM	62
3.3.1. SPATIAL PROPORTION MODULES	62
3.3.2. ELEMENTS OF THEORY ON THE CANVASS OF PILOTAGE	67
3.3.3. ELEMENTS OF THEORY ON THE CANVAS OF ARCHITECTURE	74
4. LANDSCAPE AND ARCHITECTURE CONFIGURATION OF COASTAL BELT IN TOWN PLANNING AND TERRESTRIAL INTERPRETATION (PILOTAGE)	82
4.1. Values and comfort of coastal space	82
4.2. The art of creation	89
4.2.1. ELEMENTS OF ARCHITECTURAL COMPOSITION – SYNTHESIS	89
4.2.2. SIGNAL, SIGN, SHAPE – REFERENCES IN SPACE AND ON A PLANE	113
4.2.3. SYMBIOSIS OF TOWN PLANNING FORMS – MARKET, SQUARE, AQUATORY, STREET, BOULEVARD, CHANNEL, FRONTAGE, FACADE, DETAIL	116
5. SPECIFICITY OF OBJECTS AND SHORE INSTRUMENTS OF PARTICULAR MEANING IN NAVIGATION RECOGNITIONS – IN ASSOCIATION WITH ARCHITECTURAL FORM AND SILHOUETTE	125
5.1. Analysis of navigation symbols	125
5.1.1. Water routes	125
5.1.2. Access to a port, a wharf	133
5.2. Recognising navigational forms	134
5.2.1. Floating naval and inland navigational signs	134
5.2.2. Fixed NAVIGATIONAL SIGNS	140

6. EFFECTS OF EMPTY SPACE	149
6.1. Factors of shore environment recognition – perception	149
6.2. Determining position and distance assessment on the basis of visual observation	152
6.3. Recognising shore environment and approaches to selected harbours of the southern coast of the Baltic Sea	163
7. TRANSMISSION OF SEA CULTURE HERITAGE IN THE AGE CIVILISATIONAL AND TECHNICAL TRANSFORMATIONS	175
7.1. Cartography of water and shore pilotage	175
7.1.1. Historical projections – directional maps, road nautical charts of the southern Baltic Sea	175
7.1.2. CONTEMPORARY NAVIGATIONAL MAPS – POLISH AND FOREIGN PUBLISHERS	179
7.2. Cartographic and drawing projections according to the methods of pilotage and town planning composition	184
7.2.1. Constructing visual and road (via-aquien) maps for the sake of configurational and navigational recognitions	184
7.2.2. Silhouette and perspective charts made as drawing and technical compilations	187
