

Contents

K1

Gz0 200691

Dedication

8

Acknowledgements

8

Preface

12

Introduction

A celebration of inclusion or a warning against complacency?

13

Chapter 1

How much have we achieved in 50 years?

21

Half a century of technical standards

23

Design for special needs

25

The first legislation to address access to buildings

28

The social model of disability

30

The Access Committee for England

32

The first planning policies

33

Design and Access Statements

38

The London Plan

40

The first building regulation

46

The principles of inclusive design

49

Civil rights legislation

53

We still have a long way to go to achieve inclusion

56

Chapter 2

Designing an accessible City

61

The inaccessible City

63

Access Adaptations Programme

64

Improved access to the Great Hall, Guildhall

67

Improving access to green spaces

75

| | |
|---|----|
| City of London Access Group | 77 |
| Dropped kerbs and tactile paving | 78 |
| Guidelines for an accessible built environment | 81 |
| Have we now achieved 'an accessible City'? | 82 |
| Getting to and around London | 85 |
| Despite improvements, barriers to inclusion persist in the City | 86 |
| Creating an inclusive environment is a continuous process | 90 |

Chapter 3

| | |
|---|-----------|
| The most accessible Olympic and Paralympic Games | 93 |
| Going above and beyond the regulations | 94 |
| The integration of access and inclusion | 97 |
| Stratford City Consultative Access Group | 98 |
| An inclusive planning process | 102 |
| Compliance procedure | 104 |
| Disabled people played a key role | 105 |
| Welcoming disabled visitors to London | 108 |
| An inclusive development process from the outset | 112 |

Chapter 4

| | |
|--|------------|
| The good, the bad and the inaccessible | 119 |
| The Sill National Landscape Discovery Centre, Northumberland | 121 |
| Portway Lifestyle Centre, Sandwell, West Midlands | 128 |
| Frank Barnes School for Deaf Children, King's Cross, London | 132 |
| Royal Liverpool Philharmonic | 140 |
| Storyhouse, Chester | 146 |
| HOME, Manchester | 156 |
| St Paul's Cathedral, City of London | 161 |
| National Army Museum, Chelsea, London | 169 |
| Temple of Mithras, City of London | 175 |
| The Bank of England Museum, City of London | 177 |
| Thames Riverside Walk at Blackfriars Bridge, City of London | 179 |
| Up at the O2, Greenwich, London | 184 |
| 5 Pancras Square, King's Cross, London | 187 |

| | |
|--|------------|
| Library of Birmingham | 189 |
| Clink Street, Bankside, London | 190 |
| Tower Bridge, London | 192 |
| Beach Huts, Boscombe, Bournemouth | 193 |
| The devil is in the detail: | 196 |
| Tapering steps | 196 |
| Foreshortened handrails | 198 |
| Open step risers | 200 |
| Lack of contrast on step risers and treads | 200 |
| Narrow, uneven and cluttered paths | 203 |
| Seats without arms and back rests | 205 |
| Illegible wayfinding | 206 |
| Heavy doors and confusing entrances | 208 |
| Highly patterned and shiny surfaces | 209 |

Chapter 5

| | |
|---|------------|
| Towards better legislation, policy and regulations | 211 |
| Improvements to legislation, policy and regulations can accelerate change | 213 |
| Inclusive design is a critical element of planning policy | 214 |
| Improving the building regulations | 217 |
| Inclusive Design Strategies built into project briefs and procurement processes | 220 |
| Opportunities through licensing legislation | 224 |
| Inclusive design is sustainable design | 227 |
| Existing, historic and listed buildings can be made accessible | 231 |
| The need for more accessible and adaptable housing | 234 |
| The drive towards healthy streets | 238 |
| A better way to challenge disability discrimination | 243 |
| Towards better implementation | 245 |

Chapter 6

| | |
|---|------------|
| Towards an inclusive future | 248 |
| Changing our behaviour | 250 |
| Nothing about us without us | 255 |
| Local and strategic access groups | 255 |
| Collective and co-production | 257 |
| Is ignorance the enemy of inclusion? | 258 |
| The Built Environment Professional Education Project (BEPE) | 259 |
| New initiatives to improve skills and knowledge | 264 |
| Encouraging clients to embrace an inclusive design approach | 269 |
| Missing out on £249 billion | 269 |
| The Dairy, Cottage in the Dales | 272 |
| The impact of lottery funding | 276 |
| Missing out on talent | 278 |
| Inclusion champions | 279 |
| Looking forward to an inclusive future | 281 |
| Are you an inclusive designer? | 283 |
| Conclusion | 289 |
| Appendices | |
| Appendix 1 | 294 |
| Stratford City Consultative Access Group: Protocol for Accessible Presentations | |
| Appendix 2 | 299 |
| Stratford City Consultative Access Group: Protocol for Written Material | |
| Appendix 3 | 300 |
| Stratford City Consultative Access Group: Lessons learnt and transferability to other projects | |
| Abbreviations | 301 |
| Bibliography | 304 |
| Further information | 307 |
| Notes and References | 309 |
| Index | 325 |
| Image credits | 334 |