

Contents

Contributors	ix
Teaching Entrepreneurship: An Introduction.....	1
Entrepreneurship: From Opportunity to Action: The Entrepreneurial Process	5
An Inter-Institutional Cooperation.....	5
From Product Development to Innovation and Entrepreneurship	5
Promotion of Entrepreneurship	6
Center for Entrepreneurship	7
Inter-Disciplinary and Inter-Institutional Cooperation	8
Course Design	8
Educational Approaches and Teaching Methods	8
Curriculum and Course Development	10
Learning Styles.....	11
Current Challenges	13
References	13
Teaching Entrepreneurship and Business Planning at Tallinn University of Technology.....	15
Background.....	15
The Concept of Teaching Entrepreneurship and Business Planning	16
Course Description	17
Current Challenges/Problems Facing the Organisation; Project Experience or Educational Effort	20
Epilogue and Lessons Learned.....	20
References	21
Entrepreneurship Training for Innovative Start-Ups: The KTC Case.....	23
Introduction	23
The KTU Regional Science Park	25
KTC Entrepreneurship Training	26
Current Challenges	30
Conclusions	33

Advancing Business Planning: From Planning to Entrepreneurial Learning.....	35
Introduction	35
The Constructive Research Approach.....	36
Problems in Traditional Business Planning	38
Changing the Paradigm from Planning to Individual Learning.....	40
Concept Mapping as a Method.....	42
The Five-Phased Model	44
From Five-Phase Model to Dynamics, Theories and Two-Layered Interplay Between Learning and Computing.....	45
Summarising the Advancements of Modelling	47
Conclusions and Further Developments.....	48
References	49
 Entrepreneurship Education in Context: A Case Study of the University of Twente.....	 53
Introduction	53
Entrepreneurship in Context.....	53
Development of the Infrastructure.....	54
Stimulating Entrepreneurship.....	54
Entrepreneurship Courses.....	55
Teaching Entrepreneurship: The Minor Programme	56
Entrepreneurship Concept in the Minor	57
Teaching Entrepreneurship: The Master Programme	58
Entrepreneurship Concept in the Master	59
Teaching Entrepreneurship in Other Curricula.....	59
Teaching Entrepreneurship: Extracurricular Programmes	59
Teaching Entrepreneurship.....	60
References	60
 Entrepreneurship Training by Action Learning in a University Context: The Case of ROXI.....	 63
Introduction: Origins and Institutional Setting of ROXI.....	63
Outline of the Training.....	64
The Action Learning Approach Used by ROXI: Conceptual background.....	66
Action Learning Exercises Used Within ROXI: Practice	72
‘Introducing Each Other: My Life in Brief’	72
‘Mini Market Exercise’	73
‘Working with the SWOT Grid’	74
References	75
 Entrepreneurship Incubators at HAMK University of Applied Sciences	 77
Introduction	77

Learning Entrepreneurial Competences	79
Learning	79
Entrepreneurship	80
Competence	81
Entrepreneurship Learning at HAMK University of Applied Sciences
Pre-Incubator	82
Action Learning	85
Conclusions	87
References	88
 The Entrepreneurship Path Model: Promoting Entrepreneurship
in Kainuu	91
Introduction	91
Learning Environment-Business Incubator Intotalo (Intohouse)	92
Overview of Courses	94
Results of Cooperation 2003–2006	97
 Master Program in Entrepreneurship and Technology Management
in Estonia	99
Introduction	99
ETM Master Program: Overview and Potential Challenges	100
Educational Needs of small High-Tech Companies	102
Results and Conclusions	104
References	107
 Using Kolb's Learning Cycle to Teach Negotiation Skills	109
Introduction	109
Application of Kolb to Teaching Negotiation Skills	110
Construction of a Single Session of the Course	112
Further Use of the Kolb Model	115
References	115
 Entrepreneurial Learning and Virtual Learning Environment.....	117
Introduction	117
The Conceptual Framework for Entrepreneurship Education	118
Entrepreneurial Learner and Learning	120
Basis for Entrepreneurial Virtual Learning Environment.....	121
The Dynamic Knowledge Creation Model for EntreNet.....	123
EntreNet Learning Environment Concept	127
Holistic Approach to Action	127
Dynamic Knowledge Creation in EntreNet.....	130
Conclusions	131
References	132